

REPORTED DISCOVERY OF JAPANESE PLOT TO PLANT MANILA MINES

DUVALL DENIES SEARCH AS RUMORED

Declares That Hidden Explosives and Papers Were Found In Japanese Quarter

MANILA OFFICIALS GREATLY EXCITED

Gen. Wood and Washington Authorities Have No Official Advices of Search

MANILA, Dec. 28.—The discovery of a Japanese plot to plant mines in Manila harbor to destroy American warships in the event of war between America and Japan is persistently reported in army circles. Although Duvall says that the search of the houses of the suspected Japanese failed to reveal hidden explosives, it is reported that his statement and his official report are different. It is rumored that Duvall's men found not only explosives but papers showing that the Japanese have a perfect working knowledge of the harbor fortifications.

General Duvall called the police to aid in the search. This is done, it is believed, to divert suspicion that naturally would result from a search by the military. It is understood that General Duvall threatened to court-martial the officers telling any of the actual results of the visit to the Japanese quarter.

The civil authorities are greatly agitated over the reports. Several arrests of Japanese are believed to have been made secretly. The mysterious sinking of the dry dock Dewey recently, is being discussed. Naval officials have repeatedly declared that the fault lay with the officers, but it is noteworthy that none was court-martialed for the alleged neglect of duty.

THE WAR DEPARTMENT DENIES IT HAS ADVICE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—The War Department denies that it has any official advice of the discovery of a Japanese plot to lay mines in Manila Harbor. Gen. Wood, chief of staff, discredits the report of the search of the Japanese houses by Gen. Duvall. Army officers generally are interested in the report. Many assert that the Japanese have been working secretly in Manila for years.

WANTS TO HEAR MORE ABOUT INS AND OUTS OF IT

Judge West wants to hear what the defendants have to say about a real estate deal concerned in a quiet title case that was up for trial in the superior court this morning. The action was that of Wing against Sharkey and his wife, the plaintiff asking that title to a piece of property at Buena Park be vested in the plaintiff. As the case proceeded, Judge West stated that he wanted more evidence, that he would like to hear what Sharkey and his wife have to say. Accordingly a citation was issued to them and their attorney, Grant Jackson, ordering them to be in court on Dec. 30.

NEGRO IS KEPT IN A VAULT

MOONSVILLE, W. Va., Dec. 28.—Escorted by a company of militia, William Furby, a negro accused of the assault and attempted murder of Florence Anglin, near Clarksburg, was brought here today. Furby spent the greater part of the night in an air tight vault in the express office at Clarksburg, while a mob stormed the building. The officers permitted the man to come out of the vault every twenty minutes to breathe, and would then return him to the vault when the mob was about to break down the doors.

JOHNSON WILL BE DEPRIVED OF TWO APPOINTMENTS

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 28.—The resignations of State Building Commissioners Albert Lindley of Sacramento, and Jacob Transue of Los Angeles, were filed with Governor Gillett today. Their retirement gives Gov. Gillett an opportunity to appoint new commissioners, depriving Gov. Johnson of the privilege of filling two lucrative berths carrying considerable prestige and patronage. It is rumored that Gov. Gillett intends to appoint his secretary, E. Forrest Mitchell to one vacancy.

There is a possibility of a grave dispute over Gillett's action if he appoints, according to politicians gathered here for the opening of the legislature. Attaches of the governor's office, however, state that the appointments really belong to Gillett, since Transue and Lindley were appointed by Pardee. The action of the commissioners resigning before their terms expire has caused a rumor that State Mineralogist Lewis Aubrey may resign.

CRUISERS OF PACIFIC COAST FLEET TO BE AT SANTA BARBARA

SANTA BARBARA, Dec. 28.—Authentic news was received here that four of the cruisers of the Pacific coast fleet are to arrive in the Santa Barbara channel on January 5 to remain for three months. This was surprising news to Santa Barbarans, as the fleet had passed up this port only a few weeks ago when it went to San Diego, and no hopes for its return were entertained until next season. The vessels that are coming are the California, South Dakota, Pennsylvania and another. Officers with the boats have made reservations here for their families and it is believed to be certain that the cruisers will arrive on scheduled time.

THE COLTON CITY HALL CLOSE TO DESTRUCTION

COLTON, Dec. 28.—The city hall escaped destruction by fire yesterday morning by the narrowest margin. It is not known whether the act was incendiary or mere carelessness. Distillate is used in the stove of the council room, which also includes the office of the city clerk, water collector and water superintendent.

The collector, August Johnson, entered the office yesterday morning and found the room in flames. The damper had been turned completely off and the distillate was running full force. The contents of the room were all black, including the city records. As none of the city officers were in town, Mr. Johnson is at a loss as to how the fire occurred. Janitor John Wenck strenuously denied any carelessness on his part.

GRABBING OF LAND ALLEGED

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 28.—The story of an alleged attempt to grab 97,000 acres of land in Southern Oregon, valued at $4,000,000, by legal juggling, is asserted in a complaint filed in the Federal court today. The defendant is the Southern Oregon Company, successor to the Coos Bay Wagon Road Company. The government is endeavoring to gain the property, based on a provision in the original grant from the Federal government to the state of Oregon, stipulating that the sale of lands be restricted to 160 acres to one person. According to the complaint, 103,000 acres were sold to John Miller, acting as agent for Collis P. Huntington, Leland Stanford, Charles Crocker and Mark Hopkins, in 1875.

Glenn Curtiss' Manager States That Curtiss Will be Teacher at San Diego

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 28.—San Diego will be the site of a naval aviation school to be established by Glenn Curtiss, and financed by the navy department, according to an announcement today by E. D. Moore, Curtiss' manager. Moore is here looking over the ground for a school. It is intimated he may buy a site on North Island across from San Diego.

ARE CHARGED WITH ELECTION FRAUDS

MARY, Indiana, Dec. 28.—Mayor Thomas Knott, Chief of Police Martin and seven city officials were summoned to court today on indictments charging election frauds. Indictments charge the officials with altering the returns of the November election.

TAKES CHARGE MONDAY NOON

At Monday noon Sheriff-elect Rud-dock will take charge of the sheriff's office, and Sid Smithwick, whose appointment as jailor will be filed at noon on Monday, will take charge of the county jail. Since all the other offices in the court house except the district attorney's and surveyor's will see no change in the principals, the chances are that there will be no stir in the "going out of the old and the coming in of the new." Since Monday is a holiday, the offices will not be open.

In this connection the following dispatch is of interest:

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 28.—An opinion rendered yesterday by District Attorney H. S. Uttley notifies the county officials elected in November that they are expected to assume their duties next Monday.

This settles a heretofore debatable question pertaining to Monday being a legal holiday. The district attorney holds that Sunday being the first day of the New Year can no way affect the installation of the county officials the following day.

REACHED SHEPPARD'S ISLAND IN AEROPLANE

ANDOVER, Eng., Dec. 28.—It is reported that Lorraine, the aviator, flew to Sheppard's Island and today in an attempt to win the $20,000 prize for the longest flight into Europe. He selected the route taken by Aviator Grace when he was supposed to have been drowned last week.

MEMBERS OF BAR FAVOR ADDING JUDGE

Fifteen For and One Against Resolution Endorsing the Measure

HEAD OPPOSED THE PROPOSITION

Association Wants Law That Will Keep Non-Paying Husband in Jail

RESOLUTION PASSED BY BAR ASSOCIATION

WHEREAS, the increase in population, business and legislation in Orange county requires an additional Department and Judge of the Superior Court of this county.

RESOLVED, by the members of the Bar of the county, that our representatives in the legislature be requested to secure the same by an appropriate law, the department to be organized not later than July 1, 1911. Carried.

Sixteen out of the thirty-five attorneys in Orange county (in the thirty-five are numbered several not actively engaged in practice) met last night and passed, the above resolution by a vote of 15 to 1.

H. C. Head was the only attorney present who opposed the creating of a new judgeship for Orange county at this time.

Every attorney in the county was invited to attend the meeting, whether or not he was a member of the Bar Association.

The attorneys adopted a resolution favoring a change in the law so that a husband in contempt of court for failing to pay alimony may be kept in jail at the expense of the county, and not, as at present, at the expense of the wife.

Clerk's Figures

County Clerk W. B. Williams was asked to state the situation in regard to the business of the court. Williams said that he had made a comparison of the business of the last year with the year 1896, which was the last year of Judge Townner's administration. In 1896 there were 167 cases filed. Since Jan. 1, 1910, there have been 320 cases filed, and in addition there has been fifty-three juvenile cases and thirty naturalization cases. The criminal business, in addition to this, has increased steadily from year to year. In 1909 there were eighteen criminal cases tried in the superior court, and in 1910 there were thirty.

Z. B. West, judge of the superior court, was asked by the president of the association to make a statement in regard to the calendar. He said that in 1910, in addition to the criminal cases and jury trials in civil cases, in addition to probate matters, juvenile cases, naturalization cases and minor civil cases which required no special investigation, there had been forty-six cases tried by him that he felt it was necessary that they be taken under advisement.

Many of these cases were submitted after lengthy trials, and were of the kind to which attorneys devote weeks and sometimes months in preparation. When attorneys required weeks in the preparation of the case, he felt that it was neither just to them nor to himself to try to decide the case in an off-hand way. The best that he can do under present conditions is to decide the case after devoting on an average

REBELS ARE READY TO BEGIN ATTACK

PUERTO CORTEZ, Honduras, Dec. 28.—Two thousand rebels mobilizing for the last six months are reported ready to attack Tegucigalpa. According to Honduran officials the revolution is expected momentarily. The first battle perhaps will be deferred until January. Lee Christmas, an American adventurer concerned in revolutions in Nicaragua and South America, is leading the revolutionists with ex-President Bonilla.

The rebels are reported to have machine guns and ammunition. Scores of Americans are enlisted. A second force is gathering at Cebia. The gunboat Hornet, bearing Bonilla and Christmas, is expected to land tonight or tomorrow. When the leaders reach headquarters the advance is expected to begin.

Meanwhile 150 additional indictments have been returned. Hundreds have been summoned to the jury room and hundreds of true bills are expected.

Prosecutor Stephens announced that anyone not telling the truth will be sent to prison for perjury. The community is wildly excited.

HARDSHIPS CAUSE DEATH

Suffragette Alleged to Have Died As Result of Food and Harshness of Jail

LONDON, Dec. 28.—As a result of hardships endured in jail for participating in the recent suffragette raid on parliamentary buildings, Mrs. Clark, sister of Mrs. Pankhurst, died today at her home at Brighton. Before her death she told of hardships, including coarse food and alleged harsh treatment. She was released when her health failed. Suffragettes throughout England are aroused by her death and are preparing to demand parliamentary investigation.

One-third of the remainder of the estate is given to Ira L. Marchant of Santa Ana, whose relationship is not mentioned, and the remaining two-thirds is devised to Mrs. Grace Deane Easterbrooks of Long Beach, a daughter.

DOMINGUEZ FIELD, Dec. 28.—Hubert Latham, the French aviator, was visibly affected when told of the death of Alexandre Leffon at Paris today.

"I grieve his death," Latham said. "I worked with him over the Antoinette machine. He knew them perfectly. It was an accident, probably caused by the lightness of the craft, coupled with the weight of his passenger. It was an accident such as might happen to persons driving behind a horse or in an automobile."

Latham's Antoinette, damaged in an accident Monday, is repaired. He announced that he is ready to resume competition today.

specific discussions relating to the more technical questions involved in educational progress. In the general sessions of the association, I take it that questions of great import affecting the evolution of our public school system should claim our attention. In this connection the twenty-fourth biennial report of the Department of Education by Superintendent Hyatt contains much that is of interest to those concerned in the education of our youth. A few statistics from that report may well claim our attention at this time as showing a phenomenal increase in attendance and school expenditures in the last decade, and because they present some problems the solution of which will require great wisdom and foresight.

It is not surprising that with an increase of population in our state in the last ten years of 892,496, or 60 per cent, that our schools should show a corresponding increase. The number of teachers in the elementary schools increased from 7119 in 1900 to 9658 in 1910, a gain of more than 2500, or 36 per cent. The number of women teachers increased 45 per cent, while the number of men decreased. During the past year the number of men teachers in the elementary schools of the state was less than 10 per cent of the total number of teachers. That is on the basis of enrollment, there was one man to 350 boys and girls, while the ratio of women teachers to pupils was one to every 37 children. The importance of the influence of male teachers and principals in our grammar grades has long been recognized. Men who were once real boys, and who from their own experience as boys, can study at first hand and solve intelligently the boy problem. We need more men who are daily examples to our boys of the highest type of citizenship, but the problem does not seem to be near solution in California, judging from the reports of our five normal schools. Of the 743 normal school graduates last year, only twenty-eight were men. The question seems to be insufficient salary to induce young men to enter the profession and to induce those in the profession to remain longer than to secure a position offering more than a living salary. However, Superintendent Hyatt's report offers some encouragement for the reason that an increase of a half million in teachers' salaries was made last year. The distribution of this increase made a raise of $56.79 in the average salary paid per year to men, and of $25.95 in the average salary of the women. The average salary paid male teachers last year was $927.08, and the average salary paid women, $697.96.

The number of pupils enrolled in the elementary schools last year was 522,361 as compared with 257,557 in 1900, a gain of nearly one-third and an increase 10,139 last year over 1909. The amount expended for the support of the elementary schools the past year was $13,674,314.

The high schools show the greatest gain in enrollment, an increase of more than 2-1/5 as many as in 1900. In average daily attendance the elementary schools increased 36 per cent, while the high schools increased 244 per cent. In the elementary schools the expenditures and the valuation of school property have more than doubled in the last ten years. In the high schools the expenditures for maintenance are more than 4 1/2 times as much as they were ten years ago and the valuation of high school property is more than 3 1/2 times what it was in 1900. The cost per pupil in the elementary schools has increased from $24 in 1900 to nearly $32 in 1910. In the high schools from $59 to $74 during the same period.

While these figures show California's liberality in school expenditures and that the liberality is increasing rapidly the fact remains that there is too great a difference between the elementary and high schools in the cost of buildings, equipment and cost per pupil. I do not mean that we should expend less for high school buildings, equipment and salaries, but that we should expend more for the common elementary schools. There are obvious reasons why a high school equipment should cost more than an equipment for an elementary school of the same number of pupils, but is there any good reason why a high school building should cost several times as much as an elementary school building of the same capacity. The opinion seems to prevail among school officials that a plain, unpretentious building will suffice for an elementary school, while a high school building in the same city must be the most elegant in point of architecture and most expensive building in the city. I don't wish to be understood as opposing the erection of beautiful school buildings, but I do oppose style at the sacrifice of comfort and utility, and salaries, all of which are very essential elements for more efficient school work.

During the past year there was expended for the elementary schools of our state $13,674,314; for the high schools, $4,090,967; for the normal schools, $280,210, and for our state university, $1,160,948, making a grand total of $19,206,339, a magnificent sum; yet no money is paid by the vast majority of people with so much satisfaction as that which is economically expended for the good of our youth. If there are some people who feel this large sum is excessive, who fear the extent to which school officials may carry the education of our youth, we may ask with propriety, if they are so wedded to the almighty dollar that they are unwilling to give to each aspiring youth the opportunity to fit himself for the calling of his choice. As long as the United States spends but $340,000,000 for all school purposes and from a billion to a billion and a half for liquor, not to mention the great loss to the community and state from pauperism, vagrancy, disease and crime directly traceable to drink; as long as men smoke and chew $925,000,000 each year, while only $200,000,000, less than one-fourth, is the total pay roll of all teachers; as long as congress appropriates at each session enough money for wars past and wars to come to reconstruct every school and university building in the United States, we can hardly be called wisely economical when we withhold a few millions from our schools. Real economy looks beyond the present and sees the day when American hands, directed by American brains, trained in American schools will give to American materials their highest coefficient of value. True economy looks down the future and sees the ranks of industry yearly recruited from our schools with youth buoyant with hope, confident that their training has made them strong and efficient, ready for the occupation of their choice.

Proposed to Buy Thirty Acres

ANAHEIM, Dec. 27.—A plan is now being agitated here to consolidate the Anaheim Union High School and the Fullerton Union High School districts, to be known as the Northern Union High School, the school grounds and buildings to be located midway between Fullerton and Anaheim. It is proposed to purchase about thirty acres of good land and to have an agricultural course and experimental farm in connection with the school. By doing this it is thought a large and well equipped school would be established, from which students would receive more advantages than from either of the schools if continued in their present condition. The plan has the endorsement of the board of trustees of both schools and is meeting with favor from the patrons of the schools.

Autos and Bikes Collide

There were two collisions Monday between automobiles and bicycles. The first occurred about 10 o'clock at the corner of Main street and Chapman avenue. Frank Hunt of this city who was riding his wheel was run into by Myron Busick of Orange, and sustained a dislocated shoulder.

The second collision occurred in the evening near the corner of Fourth and Main streets. A man by the name of Miller was struck by an automobile driven by a man from Long Beach, and thrown from his wheel. Aside from a few bruises, he was uninjured.

SHOWS HOLES IN HIS COAT

Luis Manzo Tells Court of Attack Upon Him by His Enemy Garcia

Broken and Sad-eyed, Leodora
Garcia Hears Testimony of Two Who Were Present

Two witnesses were examined yesterday by District Attorney Davis, in the preliminary of Leodora Garcia, charged with attempting to kill Luis Manzo on April 27, 1909. Those two witnesses were Manzo, who stood up in court and showed the holes in the coat that he wore the evening Garcia rode up behind him and fired at him, and Lelo Manzo, son of Luis, who was in the buggy with his father when Garcia fired the shots. When the preliminary examination was finished, Justice Smithwick ordered that he be held to answer for trial in the superior court, his bond to be fixed at $2500. No bond will be given.

Garcia, sad-eyed and gloomy, sat beside his attorneys, Bell and Ferguson. There was none of the fire of fight in his eyes. On the other hand, Manzo, whose life Garcia sought and who was in the hospital for weeks as a result of the attack, spoke with snap and ginger. An interpreter was sworn, and Manzo's examination began through the interpreter. That proved too slow a process. Manzo told the court he had no need for an interpreter, he could tell it quicker in English. And he told it, tersely and in good English.

He said that when the affair occurred he lived on Lincoln street, next house to Garcia's house. That afternoon Leodora Garcia jumped over the fence with a revolver in his hand, saying he was going to kill Manzo.

"Why was he going to kill you?" asked Attorney Bell on cross-examination.

"Because I slapped old man Garcia's face," said Manzo. "Garcia was trying to knock my back door down so he could get in the house to kill Molino. I made him go away." Molino referred to was the man murdered later that night by one of the Garcias.

Manzo said that a Spaniard named Villa had caught Leodora Garcia as he jumped over the fence, and held him so he could not shoot.

Manzo said he hitched up his rig and went east on Depot street. It was about dark. Garcia followed on a bicycle. Coming close behind, Garcia fired five shots. One entered Manzo's back, another under the arm and another in the arm.

"I fell out of the rig," said Manzo. "Garcia was trying to put another load in the gun. I got up. He was standing near my horse's head. I had no gun. I ran at him. He turned and ran, and fired one more shot as he ran. He rode away on his bicycle. I never saw him again until I came into the courtroom."

Cross-examination did not bring out the reasons for the enmity between Manzo and Molino on the one hand and the Garcias on the other. The enmity was of long standing, but the day's row started in Manzo's house at a card game, or while the men were drinking.

Lelo Manzo, the boy, told the story of the attack upon his father in a clear and convincing manner.

MAKING SCHOOLS A HELP

State Superintendent Hyatt has just issued another of his well considered circulars, the central thought of which is that the schools must become more closely allied to the industries by which the people live. This being true it naturally follows that, "Particularly, California schools must be open to the genius of agriculture." One of the first things to be done to bring this about is to build up a spirit of sympathy with agriculture in all the people of the state and draw in the children by first securing the parents. It is the opinion of Mr. Hyatt that something different from the traditional textbook method must be found if we are really to get agriculture into our schools, and he suggests the three methods: Harvesting the fruit crop; school gardening, and organizing boys' and girls' agricultural clubs.

The movement which has been started in the prune orchards of the Santa Clara valley, is given as the best illustration of the first method cited. On this subject the bulletin says: "The idea is to enlist the interest and labor of the children and the people of the villages and towns in the harvesting of our perishable fruit crops, paying them full market wages for their work, furnishing them safe and attractive camping places, facilitating their coming and going, and giving them a season of healthful, active, outdoor life. This is a practical course of study in California agriculture that well may command the co-operation of the educational forces of the state. The school term may very well begin and close so that the children and their parents can take part in the chief industry of the neighborhood. The curse of the fruit growers is the lack of labor in the gathering of his crops." This has been given a practical trial in the section named and has been found to work so directly to the advantage of children, parents and growers that it is spreading into their neighboring communities.

On the subject of school gardens the bulletin opens with a brief but interesting history of the growth of the movement in this state, and then says: "To really teach boys and girls something about agriculture, we must first have real nature study in the primary grades, including gardening and experimental work with soils, seeds, plants and animals, all designed to form the background of experience needed for comprehending a text when it shall be taken up in the grammar grades. This can and should be done before pupils enter the seventh grade. In the grammar grades much can be done to arouse interest and create a natural demand for textbook knowledge by organizing boys' and girls' agricultural clubs. These clubs should be simply organized and designed to encourage activity among the members. Poultry growing, tree planting and a long list of such subjects have been used successfully for these clubs. The State Experiment Station is this year interesting boys in the testing of cereals and a limited number of packages of these seeds will be sent free to them while they last. Contests have also been used and have been of advantage where well conducted.

"It is the experience of other states that the most efficient approach to agriculture in the schools is by the organization of boys' and girls' agricultural clubs. These are formed for some specific and tangible purpose, as a competition under certain rules in the growing of wheat, or potatoes, or cotton, the raising of poultry, or gardens, the baking of bread, the canning of fruit. Wonderful work is being done in this way by some of the eastern states. An agricultural club may be organized in a single California school, and may do enthusiastic work. It is larger and better for a whole county to undertake it. Ambitious county superintendents of schools in the rural regions have an inspiring opportunity for usefulness in this field. Not one in California has as yet taken it up. There is a fascinating field lying ready, a field for fame and glory as well as for the highest service to the state." In closing, Superintendent Hyatt gives highly complimentary mention to the interest taken in this work by W. G. Bohannon, 1095 Market street, San Francisco, his offer to give it space and every encouragement through the Town and Country Journal, and suggests that all who are preparing for the organization of these clubs get in touch with him at once.

SOME THINGS WORTH WHILE IN EDUCATION

ties. This does not mean that all children should be educated in accordance with its capacities and possibilities. The school is maintained and supported for the children; its only excuse for existence is that it shall give the individual child a start in the right direction, toward right living, right thinking and right doing. Whatever conduces to the accomplishment of this purpose is educational, and worthy of careful consideration and profound study. All children must be given a knowledge of elementary Arithmetic and Grammar; the casual facts of Geography; the simple outline of our nation's history; and the ability to read ordinary literature and to express clearly any thought they may have, either by conversation or with pen. As the ranchers sons need to be taught in addition to these common subjects, the elements of agriculture, so the boys of our cities should have such variations in their courses as will fit them for their future occupations. For the boys who are to engage in business and building trades there should be added special skill in rapid and accurate computation and an introduction to the elements of bookkeeping. For those who will enter our shops and factories, some knowledge of tools and machines should be given. For the girls of all classes cooking and domestic economy are important; for we must remember that a very large per cent of the girls will become wives and housekeepers and the security of the household depends quite as much on the economy of the wife as upon the salary of the husband. If the above program meets with objection on the ground that our courses of study are already overcrowded, the remedy may be found in dispensing with much of the work now required in arithmetic; by omitting most of the technical grammar and at least one-third of the amount of Geography now required and by spending more time on simple, direct expression.

Educational changes in the past few years have been rapid and as some may think radical. The evolution in matters educational has been so rapid and far reaching as to unbalance the equilibrium of those wedded to the purely cultural side of education. What we should seek to avoid is in allowing the educational pendulum to swing so far towards purely industrial or commercial subjects that we shall lose sight of those elements in education that make for culture and refinement. To train our youth to become not only self-supporting, but capable of grappling with the hard problems of life, capable of working in competition with the skilled labor of this and other lands. I take it, is the first essential in education. But in these times of rapid accumulation of wealth, of making and losing fortunes in a day, we should not forget there is something in life worth while besides the ability to make money. Someone has said, "It is better to be able to enjoy what we cannot buy than to be able to buy what we cannot enjoy." This sentiment may have a more direct bearing on our educational situation of today than we realize. However, more important to us as a people than the ability to make money of greater importance to us than high scholarship is the character of our citizens. Never before in the history of our country has it been so honorable to do right. In the great scramble for wealth many forget the old ideals of honesty and fair dealing. For a man to cheat his neighbor or loot a public treasury; for a large corporation to squeeze the life out of a weaker rival and force every man in the country to pay tribute to multiply the amount of its ill gotten gains; for men to sit in luxuriantly furnished offices and vote themselves unprecedented salaries, sometimes stolen from dead men's children, became so common that few seemed to have the courage or the desire to raise a voice in protest. But slowly and surely there has grown up in the minds of our people the conviction that stealing is a crime. The discovery and prosecution of graft is gratifying evidence of an awakening of the public conscience, evidence that there have arisen men, brave and true, who are willing to champion the cause of simple justice, to demand a square deal. Once more simple honesty is the best policy.

A high standard of character in our youth is the surest foundation for the success and perpetuity of our Republican form of government. And it is upon us as educators that the great responsibility lies. More than the churches, more than the homes are the moulding influences of our schools. Whether our youth will enter upon life's work with hands strong, brains thinking, and hearts beating high with hope; whether the men of tomorrow shall esteem honesty above smartness, and desire honor more than riches, will depend upon the character of the teacher and teaching in every department of our school life from the most remote rural district to and including our great state university. Shall we as educators rise to the occasion? Shall we measure up to the exalted position and merit the proud title of teachers of children, guardians of youth, builders of manhood and womanhood?

AMUSEMENTS

Countess de Swirsky

It may please many of our readers to know that, as a high class artistic as well as musical city, Santa Ana is gaining rapidly.

This next attraction comes to us heralded as a wonderful exponent of all that is true and beautiful in interpretive dancing and dramatic pianistic art.

A new and unique entertainment combining the personification of artistic expression as no genius has ever given the world. We have had dancers, we have had fine pianists, but never before have we had a nature born to this material field, of so delicate and sensitive an organism as to combine these two arts and hold an audience by her own inspirational powers, interpreting the masters of the musical world such as Greig, Chopin, Glazounow, Strauss, Gluck, Delibes and Rachmaninoff—not only in their method, the piano, but she feels, she lives them in every chord of her delicately chiseled body—her means of expression.

of three days to each case. One of the cases Judge West spoke of had a transcript of 1300 pages. This case was tried without a jury, and he was required to decide, not only questions of law, but fact. Such cases as these are entitled to lengthy consideration, and the present condition of the calendar is such that he does not have the time to devote to their consideration that their importance demands. At the present time he has eleven cases submitted and under advisement. The calendar is full until the latter part of April, and there are numerous cases at issue to occupy the attention of the court for the remainder of the year.

Attorneys Speak

E. E. Keech, R. Y. Williams, Victor Montgomery, J. Howard Bell, H. J. Forgy, A. H. Stutsman, W. F. Heathman and H. C. Head were among the attorneys who discussed the situation. All of these were favorable to the creation of a new judgeship immediately except Head.

Head stated that he did not believe the time has come when the superior court of this county needs an additional judge. He said that each of the twelve departments in Los Angeles does more business than the local court. While traveling over the county he had heard many complaints that taxes are too high, and he thought it unwise to increase the burden of taxation; rather effort should be to decrease it.

Keech stated that he believed the time for creating a new judgeship is at hand, and the sooner the better. Keech paid a high tribute to the sincerity, capabilities and hard-working capacity of Judge West.

Montgomery said that many remembered the time when Santa Ana's fire department apparatus consisted of a cart hauled by hand. As the city has outgrown that condition, so has the county grown in different lines. An additional judge is needed in order to meet the conditions of the growth of business.

Forgy said that with another judge, each could sit in cases where the other might be disqualified. At present judges have to be brought here from all over Southern California. Half of the salary of the judge is paid by the state, and the extra burden of $2000 a year could create no feeling in the face of the absolute necessity.

Bell advised that the Bar Association adopt a resolution asking that the judgeship be created, that the matter might not be passed up to the assemblymen. Bell favored a new judgeship.

Judge Stutsman said that while not actively engaged in practice, he knew that as a general rule changes must be made to meet increases of business, and a congestion of a court calendar should be relieved if it is shown that the congestion is not a mere matter of the circumstances of a short period. In the case of Orange county he understood the congestion had come to be permanent unless relief is afforded.

There was considerable discussion as to the time the proposed bill should provide for the creation of the judgeship, which will be by appointment by Gov. Johnson. It was thought that the Board of Supervisors would be unable to make provision for a courtroom before July. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 15 to 1, Head voting against the resolution.

Make it Straight

The attorneys adopted a resolution recommending that the state law be so changed that a wife will not have to pay the jail board bill of her husband when he is sent to jail for contempt of court for failure to pay alimony. At the present time the county pays the board bill of any person sent to jail for contempt. If the offender is fined, the county, not the wife, gets the fine. Yet the law is such that unless the wife guarantees the sheriff the costs of keeping a man in jail, the order of the court committing the man to jail for contempt cannot be carried out. The attorneys last night were unanimous in their declaration that contempt for failure to pay alimony on the order of the court should be no different from other contempt insofar as the board bill of the offender confined in the county jail is concerned.

Another matter that was discussed was a proposal to change the law to relieve conditions such as have been found to prevail in Newport Beach, permitting the city court to go outside of the city to get jurors. Newport Beach has found its hands tied in several cases of violation of city ordinances. The number of residents qualified to serve on a jury is so limited that after a defendant's attorney has finished with his peremptories and examination of the venire, it often occurs that there are not twelve men left in the city for a jury.

The association decided that it would be well to have a committee to receive and consider proposed amendments in the laws, this committee to report to the association. The chairman appointed E. E. Keech and W. H. Thomas on that committee.

Orange News: Laura Robinson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Robinson of West La Veta avenue, was painfully hurt by a fall from her bicycle Sunday morning. Miss Robinson teaches a Sunday school class at the Christian church, and was riding with her brother toward the church at about 9:30 a.m. At the corner of Orange street and Almond avenue they rode together in some manner, and the girl was thrown from her wheel and rendered unconscious by the contact with the ground. Dr. Chapline was hurriedly called to her assistance and later she was removed to her home. She remained unconscious about twenty minutes. Her injuries are not of a serious nature, consisting of a scalp wound and bruises on the arms and elbows. She is reported to be doing nicely today.

Pretty little Japanese place cards marked the guests' plates. Covers were laid for the J. H. Walker and W. L. Innes families. The good things to eat, the pretty china and the holly, combined to make the occasion a delightful one.

W. E. Ward Dinner Party

A merry family party gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ward, 424 West Second street, Monday, to celebrate the Christmas season. The parlor was beautifully decorated with smilax and red bells, while the dinner table looked very attractive under a canopy of popcorn. After partaking of a good, substantial turkey and goose dinner, the party repaired upstairs to view the Christmas tree.

The party, numbering twenty-eight, included the host and hostess, with their daughter, Edith; Mr. Ward's mother, from Vinton, Iowa; a brother, J. E. Ward, wife and four children, from Tustin; Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Leonard and two daughters, of West Orange; Mr. J. H. Stevens, W. L. Stevens, wife and daughter, I. M. ### MONEY SENT FOR CHRISTMAS SPENT FOR FUNERAL PIECE

Orange News: The funeral of Oscar Schubert, who died Friday, was held yesterday afternoon and attended by a large number of relatives and friends of the young man. The funeral services were held from the Blank undertaking parlors at 1:30 p. m., and from the German Lutheran church at 2 o'clock, Rev. J. Kogler officiating. The pall bearers were Henry Seba, Henry Schmeigen, Al Priess, Max Simon, Louis Gunther and Will Kogler. A wealth of floral offerings worked into many beautiful designs, were sent. Interment was made in the Santa Ana cemetery.

A sweetheart's Christmas gift was one of the floral pieces that told a tale of sorrow at the young man's grave. It was a beautiful violet woven motto reading "Gates Ajar," that kind hands had laid upon the bier, another present than that intended by the giver.

Oscar Schubert was a rural mail carrier at Sebewaing, Mich., and had been in the government service four years. He was engaged to be married when a severe cold shattered his health and he came west seeking relief from the dread disease, consumption. He had been here a year and his Michigan sweetheart sent money for a present to be purchased here. The money came—and friends purchased flowers to lay upon a coffin. Oscar Schubert was beyond the reach of other kindness.

MODERN HISTORY AS VIEWED FROM THE N. E. CORNER OF NO. 1 THE KANSAS TIN SHOP

About two years ago there was much said (and more written) about the unsanitary conditions prevailing at the several dairies in this part of the state and the health officers warned us that there was too many bugs in the milk and that it was because of the nasty conditions of the feeding and milking places and there was, often, ocular evidence that the cow protested against the prevailing conditions and "put her foot in it."

Then there came the scare that there were consumptive cows being milked and that many and terrible diseases would follow the use of such milk and our doctors finally succeeded in inducing us to exercise reasonable care in this matter and various remedies were suggested, none of which seemed to meet with general approval.

About that time Mr. Raitt (who had aforesaid made a success in the dairying business in this valley) returned from the north part of the state where he had been engaged in the same business.

After looking over the situation Mr. Raitt concluded that if sufficient money was provided he would again take up the management of a "down to date" dairy.

Women Who Wear Well.

It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life often make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliance vanish like the bloom from a peach which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. There are two reasons for this change. Ignorance and neglect. Few young women appreciate the shock to the system through the change which comes with marriage and motherhood. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant pelvic drains and weaknesses which few often come with marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the cheek of its freshness and the form of its fairness.

As surely as the general health suffers when there is derangement of the health of the delicate woman's organs, so surely when these organs are established in health the face and form at once witness to the fact in renewed comeliness. Nearly a million women have found health and happiness in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Ingredients on label—contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs. Made wholly of those native, American, medicinal roots most highly recommended by leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

For nursing mothers, or for those broken-down in health by too frequent bearing of children, also for the expectant mothers, to prepare the system for the coming of baby and making its advent easy and almost painless, there is no medicine quite so good as "Favorite Prescription." It can do no harm in any condition of the system. It is a most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nerve tonic adapted to woman's delicate system by a physician of large experience in the treatment of woman's peculiar ailments.

Consultation by letter free of charge. Address: Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, No. 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

county against the Pacific Electric, all on one ground, that the Pacific Electric bridge on the Santa Ana line, across the Santa Ana river, and the embankment of the road east of the river were responsible for damages done on ranches by overflow water on Jan. 1, 1910. The four complaints have been filed by Attorneys Scarborough & Forgy for four clients, E. L. House, Santa Ana Jersey Farm, Perry Neeley and Allen McDowell.

Each of the complaints sets forth substantially the same set of facts, except as to crops and the amount of damage done. The complaint of Perry Neeley has in addition a charge that the Huntington Beach line was partly responsible for the damage done on his place.

The complaints set forth that the bridge is a pile bridge, with the piles close together, that the Pacific Electric when building the bridge was warned that it would cause the brush and other storm debris to pile up against it, thus forming a dam, and would cause the storm floods to be diverted from the channel.

When the storm that ushered in 1910 was in progress the brush and debris did pile up against the bridge and cause the flood to be diverted. The embankment held the flood back, and forced it eastward to a point near Fifth and Sullivan streets, from which point it flowed southward over lands that in ordinary floods would not have been injured.

In the Neeley case it is asserted that the Huntington Beach line runs along the south side of his place, and when the waters came down from the north they were held back by the embankment so that water stood over Neeley's place two feet deep. Neeley enumerates his damages as follows: Seventy-five tons of pumpkins, at $3.50 a ton, $262.50; forty tons of corn fodder, at $2.50 a ton, $100; alfalfa, $1800; damage by silt and foul seed left on the land, $1000; total, $3162.50.

Allen McDowell's list of damages on the five acres in Santa Ana Acres is: 400 dozen cauliflower, $180; 1800 dozen chicory, $450; 1000 dozen lettuce, $130; silt and foul seed damage, $75; total, $875.

The Santa Ana Jersey Farm asks damages as follows: Damage to land from gullies and silt, $5000; alfalfa, $1000; sugar beets, $100; pipeline and its embankment, $750; machinery and pump-house, $50; barley, $400; total, $7300.

E. L. House's complaint was filed early this month.

House is suing for $7075, of which $3075 is for damage to crops and trees, and $3000 for damage to land.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

A battle yesterday for the supremacy of the egg market—for a day at least—was one of the most exciting trade incidents on Los Angeles markets for many a day. One of the traders started by offering 32 cents for cast count eggs. The market was 36 cents to open. With receipts of three days undistributed, there was a surplus in the hands of a number of dealers. One of them finally came down to 32 cents. He sold ten cases, then ten more, and the spirit reached others. The trader offering 32 was almost buried with sales that came thick and fast for two minutes. At the end of that time he had purchased 140 cases of local eggs and had every extra egg on the market in his hands. Before some of the dealers had awakened to the fact he had sold some of his purchases at 34 cents, 2 cents above his buying price, and at this figure the market remained for the rest of the day. It was one of the fastest, cleverest business deals on the Produce Exchange in some time, and probably kept the market from going to pieces completely. One dealer after another admitted that he would have sold eggs as low as 28 cents in order to clear up the surplus standing in his store. Receipts of yesterday morning were 139 cases. The final quotations on eggs of local production stood at 34 cents for case count and 38 cents for candled.

Butter arrivals were 19,196 pounds. There was a fair call for creamery extra, but the best demand was for lard stock and eastern storage. The market remained steady. In San Francisco the 35 cent quotation was upheld. Chicago quoted 29 cents and

AWAKENED BY THICK SMOKE

Fire in Bungalow at Orange Discovered in Time to Save Its Spreading

Orange News: Mrs. M. C. Rolis and Miss Rolis underwent a trying experience early Sunday morning when they awoke to find their home on West Palmyra street filled with smoke, issuing from an unknown source. Prompt assistance from E. H. Dierker, a neighbor, resulted in the location and extinguishing of the fire before it had done serious damage.

The two ladies had returned Saturday evening about midnight from the Trinity church Christmas entertainment, and retired. At 3 a.m. they were awakened by the smell of smoke and were terrified to find the rooms filled. Miss Rolis, thinly clad, rushed for help, while Mrs. Rolis began filling pails and pans with water, and seeking the seat of the trouble. Mr. Dierker responded promptly to the call for help, and the flames were soon located in the wall of the dining room, breaking through the baseboard near the chimney. They were soon extinguished.

It is presumed that the fire was caused by burning soot in the chimney, although no fire had been kindled in the house since Saturday morning, and the chimney is well built and considered safe. An effort to reach the fire department by telephone was fruitless, and but for the efforts of Mr. Dierker and the prompt action of the two ladies the blaze might have resulted much more seriously. The Rolis bungalow is a very attractive one and its loss would have been a severe one.

IT IS IN FAVOR OF UNIVERSITY PROJECT

The Associated Chambers of Commerce meeting this afternoon at the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, passed a resolution favoring the establishment of a state university in Southern California, and authorized the chairman to appoint a committee of three to boost for it.

A. L. Reed and A. A. Mills delivered a report of their visits to Long Beach and Whittier in regard to the annexation of a strip of Los Angeles county in the event that Los Angeles forms a city and county government. They said they found good feeling toward this county.

The good roads matter will be taken up for discussion later this afternoon.

His Only Need

(Louisville Courier-Journal.) "Then you think the Indian doesn't need civilization?" "Certainly not. With his blankets and beadwork, his tepee looks like the regulation cozy corner now. All the Indian needs is a chafing dish."

Booth Tarkington, at a dinner in Indianapolis, praised wittily the husband of domestic tastes.

"A good match," he said, smiling toward a group of pretty Indianapolis girls—"a good match, ladies, is one who never goes out."

DEAN'S ANNUAL BOX SALE TO BE HELD NEXT FRIDAY

—Next Friday is box sale day at Dean's Drug Store. A box sale between Christmas and New Years is a regular annual feature of this busy store and never fails to attract the buyers because they are sure of getting their money's worth and stand a good chance of getting many times its worth in useful articles.

The boxes are made up largely from the left over stock of holiday goods and each box will contain not less than 50c worth of articles and from that up to $15.00 worth. They will sell at 50c each. Each box is wrapped in plain white paper and there is no possible means of knowing what it contains until opened by the purchaser. Everyone has an equal chance of getting the boxes which contain the high priced articles of which there are many good ones. There are toilet sets worth up to $15.00, hand bags worth up to $10.00, smoking sets, shaving sets and manicure sets, at values up to $5.00, cut glass values up to $7.50, music rolls up to $5.50, triplicate mirrors, military brush sets, collar and cuff boxes, jewel boxes, glove and handkerchief boxes, etc., any of which are worth several times the 50c paid for them.

At last year's box sale this store sold between 600 and 700 boxes and practically everyone of the buyers were well pleased with what they got. A look in the show windows where many of the articles are now on display, will convey some idea of what is in store for box buyers this year.

MAN WHO WANDERED FROM HOME OFTEN IS UP FOR INSANITY

His mind shattered by old age, Asa R. Alvord is to appear in the superior court on Friday on a charge of insanity. He has been living for three or four years with his daughter on Fairhaven avenue, and a number of times he has wandered away from home. On two occasions the sheriff's office has gone in search of him, locating him at Olive and another time at El Toro. Recently he has become entirely unmanageable.

The Piano Given by the Kenton Grocery

Goes to MISS CAMMIE MITCHELL of 509 West Sixth Street

About a year ago this grocery advertised to give away on Dec. 24, 1910, a piano to the person who during the year secured the largest number of cash trading certificates. With each purchase a certificate to the amount of same was given. No restrictions as to transferring these certificates were imposed, so anyone could give them to whom they pleased.

Toward the latter end, the contest narrowed down to two contestants, Miss Cammie Mitchell and the proprietors of the Palace Restaurant, these two having made a vigorous canvas among the patrons of the store for the certificates. The contest ended Saturday evening, December 24th and yesterday the piano was awarded to Miss Cammie Mitchell, who had turned in $8,632.85 against $7,864.15 turned in by the Palace Restaurant.

The following is a note of thanks from Miss Mitchell.

Santa Ana, Dec. 28th, 1910.

M. C. Kenton, Prop. Kenton Grocery.
Dear Sir:—Of course I was delighted to learn that I had won the piano and take this opportunity to thank you for your many courtesies also those of your customers who favored me with their certificates. During the months that I was working for the piano I called upon hundreds of your patrons, nearly all of whom received me very kindly. They without exception were outspoken in their praise of your store; their satisfaction expressed everywhere was quite noticeable and I feel that it is only fair to you that I should mention this fact at this time. I was given certificates by dozens of your patrons who praised your goods your accommodating clerks and your prompt service. As for ourselves, I can only say that there is only one grocery and that is the Kenton. Thanking you again for the beautiful piano, I am
Very Sincerely

CAMMIE MITCHELL.

The above testimonial is very gratifying to the management as well as the employees of this store. It is a great satisfaction to learn that our efforts to please have been successful. If we can please others, why not you? We solicit a share of your trade.

YUCAIPA VALLEY

YUCAIPA VALLEY offers you an ideal home because it has an absolute perfect climate, seldom above 90 in summer, or below 30 in winter; a varied elevation from 1500 to 3000 feet; a soil peculiarly adapted for growing big, red apples and maturing them absolutely perfect in color, flavor and keeping qualities. It has an inexhaustible supply of pure mountain water, and its gorgeous scenery is a constant delight to the eye. While apple orchards are growing, the land will produce abundantly and profitably every other crop that thrives in Southern California.

The YUCAIPA VALLEY joins beautiful Redlands, where orange groves in full bearing sell readily for from two to three thousand dollars per acre.

BIG RED APPLES

It is a well known fact that BIG RED APPLES are as profitable as oranges. We are offering perfect apple land in YUCAIPA VALLEY for only $250 per acre on easy terms with an abundance of pure mountain water, supplied by a mutual company.
